What Does Southern California Need From the 710 Freeway?

<http://www.zocalopublicsquare.org/event/?postId=53220> <http://www.zocalopublicsquare.org/event/?postId=53220>

A Zócalo/Metro Event

Moderated by Conan Nolan, General Assignment Reporter, NBC4

LOCATION:

Museum of Contemporary Art

250 S. Grand Ave.

Los Angeles, CA

Parking $9 at the Walt Disney Concert Hall garage. Enter from Second St., just west of Grand Ave.

The 710 is one of the most important freeways in Southern California. It's also shorter than originally planned: For nearly 50 years, legal and environmental challenges have stalled the freeway in Alhambra, 4.5 miles short of its intended destination, Pasadena. Over the decades, discussions about extending the freeway have cast its future as a local issue. But the 710 causes traffic, produces pollution, and affects commerce across Los Angeles and even beyond. How broad are these impacts, and what role might the stalled extension play in them? What would the five options now being debated for dealing with the Alhambra-to-Pasadena gap—implementing new surface traffic technology and strategies, new rapid bus transit, light rail transit, a freeway tunnel, or building nothing at all—mean for our region? UCLA Institute of Transportation Studies director Brian Taylor, Clean Tech Advocates senior advisor and former California Environment Secretary Linda S. Adams, L.A. Chamber of Commerce president Gary Toeppen, and Southern California Association of Governments executive director Hasan Ikhata visit Zócalo to discuss what these proposals mean for all of us.

Teacher and Staff Appreciation Week – May 5th - 9th

Teacher and Staff Appreciation week is this week. We wanted to take a moment to let each of our teachers, aides, staff, custodians, food service workers, playground supervisors, and administrators know how much we appreciate everything they do!

We appreciate how dedicated they are to teaching our children.

We appreciate every hour they spend in meetings, planning and discussing and preparing and assessing.

We appreciate their willingness to put up with all of our questions, concerns, emails and calls.

We appreciate the time they take to talk to our kids, and get to know them – in the cafeteria, on the playground, and in the office. We appreciate the sense of family and community this creates for our own kids.

We appreciate the personality, the joy, and the love they bring into the school.

We appreciate the examples they set for our children of the value of education, of being safe, respectful, and responsible.

At time it might seem like it goes unnoticed, but it's never unappreciated. Thank you for all that you do!!!

IT'S SHOW TIME!! - MWES Annual Talent Show & Spaghetti Dinner is this Friday, May 9th

The very famous and wildly popular Mt. Washington School Talent Show is this Friday, May 9th. The spaghetti dinner will be from 5:00pm to 6:30pm in the lunch pavilion and the show will start at 6:30pm in the MPR. CLICK HERE for more details.

Rooms 14 & 16 will be doing their California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress (CAASPP) this Week

The CAASPP (LAUSD's new assessment process for grades 3-6) is ongoing. Below is the schedule for the classrooms which have not yet taken the CAASPP. Please make sure students get plenty of rest, eat breakfast and arrive on time on their testing days.

Room 14 - May 5, 6, 7

Room 16 - May 8, 9, 12

Make-up testing dates - May 13, 14, 15, 16

Spring Book Fair is Just Around the Corner (May 13th, 14th, & 15th)

The Spring Book Fair is here, and the Scholastic Book Fair theme - Book Fair Fiesta: ¡Yo Quiero Libros! ¡Vamos a Leer! (I Want Books! Let's Go Read!) –surrounds students in the celebration of reading with hundreds of fun, engaging, affordable books for them to discover. Giving kids access to good books and the opportunity to choose their own books will motivate them to read more. And like most acquired skills, the more kids practice reading, the better they'll get.

Book Fair Dates: Tuesday, May 13, Wednesday, May 14 and Thursday, May 15.

Shopping Hours: May 13 and May 14, 8:30 to 3:00 pm. Thursday, 8:30 to 1:30 pm.

Special Event: Family Shopping Night during Open House, May 15, from 5:00 to 7:30 pm

Before you visit the Book Fair be sure to download the FREE Book Fairs App to help you find the right fit books for your child. For more information, visit: scholastic.com/apps/bookfairs. And if you're all booked up during Book Fair week be sure to visit the Book Fair online at scholastic.com/fair.

Our Online Fair is available for an extended time from May 7 to May 27, 2014.

We look forward to having you participate in our Fair, and remember, all purchases benefit our school.

If you are able to volunteer for at least one hour at the book fair, please contact Anvi Kevany at parliamentarian@mwpta.org

Monday, May, 12: Set Up from 8:30 to 11:00 am at the library.

7 Highland Park Independent Film Festival

Mon May 5, 2014 10:12 pm (PDT) . Posted by: asncaalert

<http://www.hpifilmfest.com/2014-film-festival.html> <http://www.hpifilmfest.com/2014-film-festival.html>

The Highland Park Independent Film Festival was founded by a group of filmmakers whose goal is to promote the art of film in their community. The Festival supports three programs to fulfill this goal. The Highland Park Independent Film Festival (HPIFF) is an annual event to launch in Fall 2014, the HPIFFilm Fest Series is a bi-monthly event throughout the year and the Franklin High School (FHS) mentorship program that will further our goals of educating young, aspiring filmmakers and provide students with film workshops, volunteer opportunities and an invitation to screen their own works alongside professionals. All the programs provide a meaningful experience and exclusive opportunities for filmmakers and film enthusiasts.

HIGHLAND PARK — A female robbery suspect has been involved in an hours-long stand off with officers today, keeping a SWAT team at bay while police and media helicopters hovered over head. The stand off in the 5700 block of Aldama Street began this morning after deputies with the L.A. County Sheriff tried to serve a search warrant, according to and LAPD spokesman.

Eastsider contributor Nathan Solis, on his Twitter feed, said a warning issued from the police helicopter said "You don't want to suffer the consequences of being gassed out of your house."

* Update @ 2:39 p.m: The stand off appears to be over. A loud bang was heard at the scene, said Solis. The sheriff's department, in a brief statement, said that another adult was believed to be inside the location. The sheriff's SWAT team was brought into assist the department Transit Services Bureau, which polices Metro bus and rail lines.

Highland Park residents have been posting an account of the stand off on social media:

10 Better finish your dinner and drinks before 9 p.m – It

By Nathan Solis

EAGLE ROCK — Colorado Boulevard in recent years has attracted many new restaurants and bars serving up everything from micro brews and burgers to champagne cocktails and English pea risotto. While Eagle Rock's expanding dining and drinking scene has been welcomed by many residents, it turns out many of these new Eagle Rock businesses are breaking the law. Their crime? Staying open past 9 p.m.

The same city ordinance that has been credited for creating a more lively Colorado Boulevard also contains a provision that all new businesses – including restaurants and bars – need special city permission to operate after 9 p.m. Many of the new businesses have never bothered to get that permission or are simply ignoring the curfew in the Colorado Boulevard Specific Plan Ordinance.

The mandatory closing time applies to businesses that opened after the 1992 ordinance went into effect. The provision requiring city permission to operate between 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. went pretty much unnoticed until a new Eagle Rock sports bar – 5 Line – recently got in trouble over the issue. Now, city officials are trying to figure out a solution without having to re-do the entire ordinance.

The issue has created confusion and puts new businesses, like the 5 Line, which opened earlier this year, at a disadvantage compared to older bars and restaurants that are not covered by the 1992 ordinance.

"Things are kind of a mess," says David Greene of the Eagle Rock Neighborhood Council. "There is a patchwork of new and old businesses along Colorado. Some are violators of the municipal code who are right next door to other places who can stay open past 9 p.m. This is an unpopular code."

The problems caused by the 9 p.m. closing came to light in a story published by the Boulevard Sentinel about city inspectors who visited the 5 Line after a complaint was filed. The website of the 5 Line, which is part of the adjacent Big Mama's and Papa's pizzeria, says that it's open until 9:30 p.m.

"Nobody really follows that rule," says 5 Line manager Robert Hamil of the 9 p.m. curfew. "Two years ago we had Big Mama and Papa's Pizzeria, and we stayed open later than 9 p.m. and no one said anything. It's because we're new and we have a liquor license."

Included in 5 Line's conditional use permit to serve alcohol is a clause stating that the sports bar will not operate after 9 p.m. 5 Line also can't have a happy hour or any exterior signs advertising alcohol. Any exemptions would have to go through the Planning Department.

Many other new Colorado Boulevard businesses operate past 9 p.m., such as Little Beast, which opened its doors last year, The Oinkster, which opened in 2006, and Cafe Beaujolais, which has been on Colorado near two decades.

The 9 p.m. curfew is one of the provisions in the ordinance designed to ensure that nearby residents are not disturbed by businesses. Other restrictions and provisions included in the ordinance deal with parking, business signs facing Colorado Boulevard as well as the 9 p.m. closing.

Councilmember Jose Huizar has received numerous requests from Eagle Rock residents to update the plan.

"Councilmember Huizar will support whatever the community/business consensus is but there needs to be a thorough public discussion first," says Huizar's communications director Rick Coca.

Taco Spot, another Colorado Boulevard restaurant, closes its doors at 9 p.m., but owner Joshua Lewis is not a fan of the restriction. "It's disconcerting to know that if we wanted to stay open past a certain hour that we can't."

Nathan Solis is a Highland Park resident who writes about and photographs the L.A. music scene. You can find more of Solis stories, reviews and photos at Smashed Chair.
